GOLFING FURTHER A FIELD

If you are feeling adventurous and want to explore more of the West coast then we recommend paying a visit to Sligo to Strandhill Golf Club and County Sligo Golf Club at Rosses Point, which are both a one hour drive from the Ice House.

Situated 8km west of the city of Sligo and nestled under the famous Knocknarea mountain, Strandhill's 5675 meters of undulating fairways and unforgiving short cuts makes it a course to remember.

County Sligo Golf Club is widely regarded as one of the great championship links courses and is located in the picturesque seaside village of Rosses Point, 8km from Sligo. The links are set out on one of the most scenic locations in Ireland - bounded by the Atlantic Ocean on the west; Benbulbin dominates the view on the northern skyline and bears a striking resemblance to Cape Town's Table Mountain.
